TO CINCINNATI AND RETURN

The yards about Atlanta look rich and beauti ful with flowers just now. How is it out in the country? Here and there a farmer's wife may be found who has a taste for flowers. She has a few flower-beds which she cherishes in the front yard. Approach them and you must walk shoedeep through grass, only to see a group of sickly lilles, or a few very common roses. The grass, she tells you, is growing up for hay, and the flowers meanwhile have to get along as best they can. slowers do not pay, but grass is money, is the sentiment which prevails. But is it true that flowers do not pay? We deay the doctrine that nothing pays which is not convertible into ollars and ceuts. A moderate amount of labor will suffice to get a garden into order and to keep it so. Still, there must be the expenditure of a little money and some trouble, and beside that there is the loss of probably a couple of dollars more in the desirability of not turning the yard into a hay field. On the one side of the account we confess that no dollars are to be placed; but there are profits of another kind. The custom of valuing everything by its money value is a mistaks. The farmer who teaches his children that the yard must be turned into dollars would do them infinitely greater service if he would devote that yard and its flower beds to the culture of his children's subsettle taste.

The Lynchburg (Va.) News says: Our friend, L. S. Brown, general transport agent, A. M., and O. railroad, arrived in our city yesterday evening, having in charge twenty five pretty young ladies of the Augusta female seminary. Staunton, Va., en route via Kennesaw route. The commencement exercises of the school begun hast Monday and were concluded Tuesday night. Among those in the party to whom were awarded medals and prizes were:

Miss Mary Bell Powell, of Barnesville, Ga., received the prize for best composition. Miss Lizite Hill, of Griffin, Ga., took the scholarship star medal, the composition starmedal, the medal for scientific attainment in music, and the first honor medal in German, in addition to a diploma of graduation, all in three years. This young lady took the highest honor and more medals than were ever awarded in the history of this widely known institution.

THE FOURTH OF JULY.

The proposition to have a grand fourth of July demonstration in Atlanta is meeting with very general apprehation. The rail-roads have promised to do what they can to encourage the movement. There is altoways a crowd in Atlanta on the fourth, but this year there will be sach a flood of visitors as has seldom been seen here. Gentlemen who are well posted think that many of the leading democrats at the national convention will be in Atlanta and take part in the great democratic jubilee

Nine instrumental performers will contest for three medals. The first medal will be of gold. It is for the best performer. The other two will be of silver, and will be performer most diligest in practice respectively.

Three vocalists will appear, to-wit: Mieses Mattie Sturgeon, Ona Castleber y and Mabel Haynes. A gold medal will be awarded to the best singer; a silver medal to the second best.

The Schultze concerts of a few months ago were the most popular ever given in Atlanta. It is therefore safe to say that the last one of the season will be very attractive. Four competent judges will be on hand. Admission free. We are requested to state that the Atlanta musical institute will not be closed during the summer.

It is a matter of tradition that at some ancient period in the city's history it was unlawful for dogs to run at large, without a tax tag and sometimes without a muzale. There are many citizens, who earnestly desire to see such flaw revives and enforced. There are by far too many worthless and vicious curs at large upon our streets and it is time the council and the police were doing something to cure the evil. An appropriation for the purchase and distribution of about a hundred pounds of poisoned sau sages for the vagrant dogs would meet with general approbation. Several children have been bitten recently by dogs in the streets and hydrophobia is by no means a pleasant thing to have at any season of the year.

John H. Parnell, with his usual enterprise, had the first peaches of the season on this market one week before any others who lay claim to having had the first. They were on sale through his Atlanta agents, A. McD. Wilson & Co., No. 30 Peachtree street, and brought $35 a bushel. Mr. Parnell deserves credit for contributing in this line to the material interests of the state. Such men ara our best citizens.

Messrs. Wilson & Co. will always have on hand a full supply of this luscious fruit.

STEAM AND RAIL.

THE GEORGIA CENTRAL.

Savannah News.

The regular meeting of the board of directors of the Central railroad was held yesterday morning at the banking house of Bay street, and was well attended. Judge J. J. Gresham, and Hon. W. B. Johnston, of Macon, C. J. Brown, Esq., of Atlanta, and H. H. Epping, E.q., of Columbus, having arrived on the morning train. Colonel Wadley was present and all the Savannah members of the board.

It was generally believed that a dividend of three per cent for the past six menths would be declared. Nevertheless there was considerable anxiety and interest prevalent in commercial circles, especially among the brokers and small speculators as to the action that would be taken, and developments were eagerly anticipated.

taken in regard to the superintendency of the Southwestern railroad, which will be vacant when Captain Raoul enters upon his duties as vice-president, general manager and assis ant. We understand, however, and assis ant. We understand, however, that Colonel Wadley will make the appoint-ment of superintendent shortly, and a good man will be selected for the responsible po-the directors to consolidate or combine the several agencies of the New York steamships under one management, and this matter received the earnest consideration of the board at the meeting yesterday. It was finally decided to establish a steamship bureau, for the management and conduct of all the business of the New York steamships and the steamer Florida, and General G. M. Sorrell was elected as manager at a stated salary. This arrangement will, however, not go into effect until the first of September next. At present Meers. Wilder & Co., are agents of the City of Columbus Messrs. Octavus Caben & Co., of the City of Mason and City of Bavannah, Messrs. William Hunter & Son of the Gate City and General Sorrei of the steamer Florida. On the first of September these agencies will be withdrawn, as stated, and will be under one head. The office of the new steamship bureau will be on East street at some convenient point for travelers and shippers. The erection of the new elevator upon the property recently purchased from the city was also under consideration, and work will be at once commenced. About the 20th of June Captain Raoul will leave for Chicago to inspect the elevators at that point, obtain estimates, and make such arrangements as are necessary.

The second meeting in the interest of the American Baptist publication society was held in the Second Baptist church at 4 p.m. yesterday. Rev. G. J. Johnson, missionary secretary, addressed the meeting on the beneficial influences of diffusing biblical truth. Rev. H. C. Hornady in a speech of great pungency sustained the effort to diffuse the truth by means of publications. It sparkled with incidents and bursts of rich humor.
